LEAVING THE MILITARY
CAN BE TOUGH

— BUT IT —
DOESN'T HAVE
— TO BE —

THE RSA IS HERE TO HELP YOU AND YOUR WHĀNAU WITH THE MOVE FROM MILITARY TO CIVILIAN LIFE.

We understand the unique challenges service personnel face when first stepping out of uniform, and we know how your experiences in service can continue to affect you throughout your life. So we're right here with you every step of the way.

All New Zealand's Veterans of Military Service and their whānau are eligible for support from the RSA, you don't need to have deployed and you don't need to be a member.

Our Veteran Employment Advisers can help connect you with the following support:

- ▶ Translating military experience into civilian skills
- ▶ Preparing a CV
- ▶ Presentation and interview preparation
- ▶ Vocational Training
- ▶ Job options and permanent employment
- ▶ Health and Wellbeing services

WHY USE US?

- ▶ We are a free service
- ▶ The RSA doesn't see you as just another candidate. We know what it means to serve, and we know it can be difficult to find your feet when you leave the military. Our advisors not only help you find employment, but make sure you are work-ready and in the best position for success.
- ▶ The RSA has established relationships with a wide range of employers across the country who recognize the value of employing those with military service, and are recruiting for roles right now.
- ▶ Our advisors are connected to a nation-wide support network that can help manage any health and well-being challenges that could become a barrier to employment.
- ▶ We work closely with other support networks such as the NZDF Career Transition Coaches and other veteran support organisations.
- ▶ Our support doesn't stop once you're in your new role. Both our employment and support advisors are always available for advice and guidance to keep things on track.
